Live Webinar

Continuing Education Information

Speaker:

Art Walaszek, M.D.

Professor of Psychiatry at the University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health

Target Audience:

This educational activity is designed for physicians, nurses, clinical and management staff. Any allied health professional with an interest in improving care related to the topic area is welcome to attend.

Desired Outcome:

Participants will be able to identify how to initiate treatment for depression in older adults. This outcome will be assessed by participant self-report of knowledge gained from the activity.

CCM Goal

To educate CCM® board certified case managers on the management of late life depression, providing a foundation for making choices about case management for this patient population.

Objectives - Following this educational activity, participants will be better able to:

1. Identify the types of depression that are common in older adults
2. Examine the relationship between depression and other medical conditions that older adults are often diagnosed with
3. Explain the types of screening tools and assessments that can help identify depression in older adults
4. Recognize the various treatment options that might be most effective for older adults.

Special Needs:

If you have needs under the Americans with Disabilities Act, please email continuing-ed@metastar.com.
