

Webinar | Trauma-informed Care in Long-term Care

Thursday, May 16, 2019, 1:00 pm - 2:00 pm ET / 12:00 pm - 1:00 pm CT

In November 2019, Long-term Care (LTC) facilities will be required to implement the Phase 3 requirements of the Conditions of Participation related to trauma-informed care (TIC). TIC is a process that focuses on creating an organization that is sensitive to trauma and seeks to create a culture that supports safety, transparency and trustworthiness, choice, collaboration and mutuality and empowerment.

This presentation will explore key terminology and important concepts related to trauma, its prevalence in society and the elderly and the impact trauma has on individuals from a holistic perspective. We will review the adverse childhood experiences study, resilience and the importance of connections.

Audience

- Nursing home staff

Objectives

- Define and identify key terminology and concepts related to trauma
- Understand the significance of the Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACE's) study as it relates to mental illness across the lifespan
- Articulate what trauma-informed care is and identify the five pillars of a trauma-informed culture
- Understand the importance of connections in reducing re-traumatization and fostering resilience in nursing home residents

Speaker

- Scott A Webb, MSE, LCSW, Trauma-Informed Care Coordinator, Wisconsin Department of Health Services

Register

- Visit the registration and join page <http://bit.ly/Trauma-LTC>
- Click "Register" on the left.
- Enter the information as prompted.
- Note: This email may go to your spam or junk folder. It will come from the email address messenger@webex.com.
You will receive an email with the call and login information.

Contact

For questions, contact Toni Kettner, 800-362-2320, tkettner@metastar.com.